REVEREND JAMES J. HOWARD
Principal

We've grown accustomed to his face—his friendly face. In the short time since his appointment in May, 1968, every C. D. student has come to recognize our new principal, Father Howard, as a man who looks upon his post as much more than an office job. He meets us in the corridors; he greets us in the classrooms. We have discovered the spirit behind the warm smile; the interest in our academic efforts; the strength of leadership that directs our school.

The Class of '69 wishes Father Howard every success and hopes that the spirit kindled by him will continue to grow.

REVEREND JOHN P. GALLAGHER
Vice-Principal

REVEREND BERNARD A. SHIMKUS
Vice-Principal

THE CLASS OF '69 REMEMBERS - -

. . . the man who was friendly, the quiet man
. . . his warm smile
. . . his modest manner
. . . his gracious service to faculty and students
. . . his concern for our needs - - spiritual, educational, social

Priest-principal of Cardinal Dougherty High School, 1962-1968.

The Class of '69 sends - -

. . . good wishes
. . . assurance of unfailing gratitude
. . . promise of lasting prayers

Pastor of St. Thomas the Apostle Parish, Chester Heights

For the last nine years of his life Mr. Albert P. Michele was deeply involved in his teaching at Cardinal Dougherty High School. In 1966, he was appointed chairman of the Business Department, Boys' Division. His students of business economics, law, English II, and German I were very much aware of his integrity. In his dedication to the students of Cardinal Dougherty High School and in his generous service to others, Mr. Michele fulfilled the Christian ideal. Those he taught mourn the death in May, 1968, of this true gentleman who was an inspiration to all.

Dancers in "Camelot" display medieval "Flower Power."

Don Whisted dons the garb and mystery of Merlin for the enactment of "Camelot."

King Arthur (Bernard Wendell) pledges that regardless of what happens, his love for Guenevere (Janet Zurbach) will never be forgotten.

The brightness of Eleanor Loughran's performance is captured in this scene from "Camelot."

Classic costuming contributed to the success of the "Camelot" dancers.

Outside the court, Guenevere (Eleanor Loughran) and Arthur (George Barnett) exchange silent moments of affection.

Mat Price, in the role of Mordred, strikes a devilish pose.

The court squires prepare for their entrance into the Great Hall where the knighting ceremonies will take place.

Pellinore shines in his new armor upon his arrival at Camelot.

The townspeople of Camelot enjoy a jousting tournament.

Director, Father Feret, and Assistant Director, Father Brennan, pool ideas while coordinating the staging of "Camelot."

Sister Rosamond and her prop crew stop to pop a smile for the camera.

In a solemn ceremony, King Arthur (Barry Wendell) and Queen Guenevere (Janet Zurbach) dub Sir Sagramore a Knight of the Round Table.

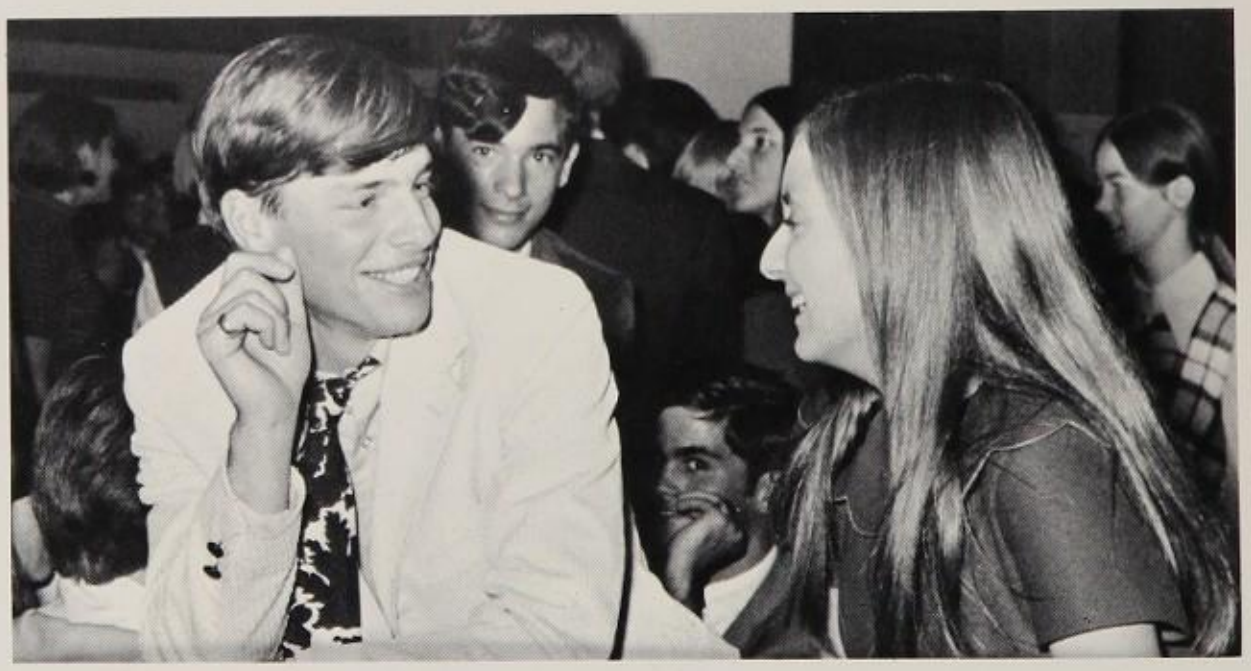
Samantha leads Father Dunne and the stage crew in a sit down for the camera.

While in the forest, Lancelot pauses to think about the crisis prevailing in Camelot.

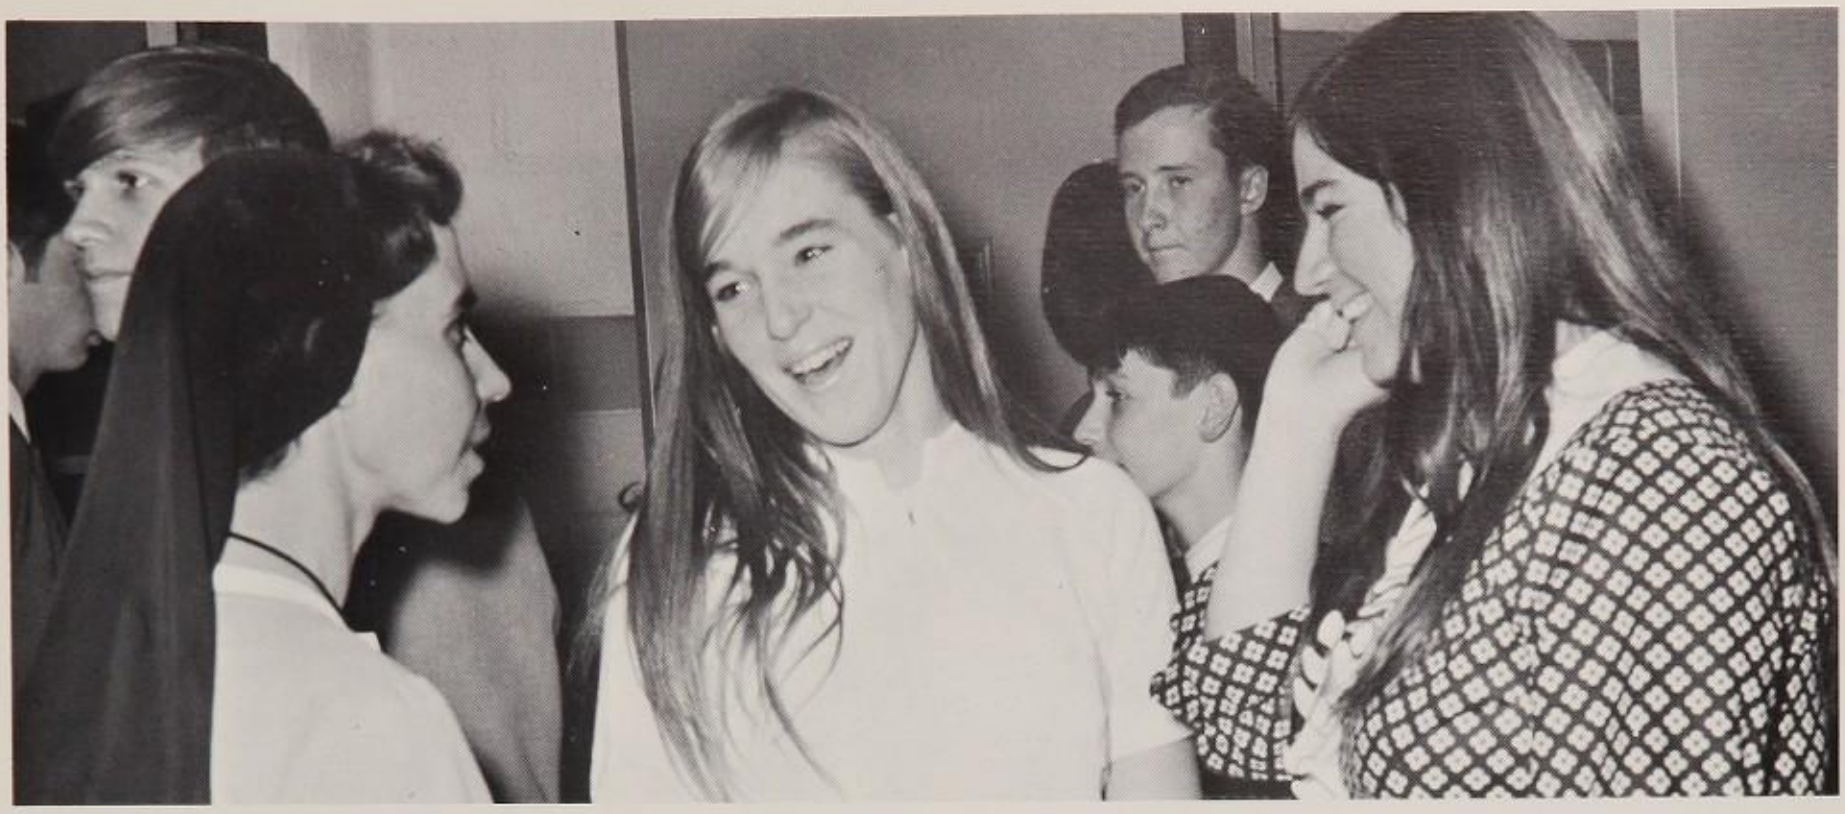
Socials

The "Sands of Time" provide a lobby-oasis for weary dancers October's Welcome/Ring Dance.

"You say that's BEechwood 4-5789."



Father Toto seizes the opportunity of the Football Dance to aquaint himself with members of the girls' side.



Not a little of the enjoyment of a school dance is the opportunity for students and teachers to meet socially.

"Getting together is better than ever" . . . demonstrated by happy faces and moving feet at the Christmas Dance.

Jim Irvine "puts down his own sound" as Pat O'Neill joins in.

The Senior Prom

Dreams are fulfilled in the splendor and gaiety of senior prom night.

Chaperons and senior prom goers enjoy the dance music at Convention Hall.

Friends, food, fun—a winning combination for an enjoyable senior prom night.

John Farley and Lois Finneran admire the waterfall and its floral surroundings.
